JERSEY CITY PASTORS DISGUSTED.

The pastors of Jersey City are disgusted with the failure of the Democratic Police Commissioners to enforce the Sunday liquor law against liquor soiling. On February 29, a committee consisting of the Rev. Dr. Parmiy, of the Pirst Baptist Church, and the Rev. Dr. McKelsey, of the Second Presbyterian Church, waited on the Police Committee Committ on the subject. The commissioners consented and on March 15 the committee waited on the Board again and urged that something be done. The matter was referred to a special committee of the Board, and the ministers went away with the assurance that they would be informed when the special committee was ready to hear them. Not re-ceiving any notice for several days, Dr. Parmly called on President Davis, of the Police Board, and asked for an explanation. The president said he would call the atten-tion of the commissioners to the matter. The result was that the committee received a letter from the Clerk of the Board stacing that in view of the approaching election the commissioners declined to take any action, for the reason that after the election the membership of the Board may be changed and the new Board will be permitted to tackle the question. This was pronounced a dodge, but the

LOBBY PRACTICES TO BE INVESTIGATED. A TILT IN THE ASSEMBLY BEIWEEN MR. CROSBY AND GENERAL HUSTED.

ALBANT, April 6.—For some time, at least, this city will be a good place for lobby ists to stay away from this is the result of the investigation by the Assembly Judiciary Committee of the charges made in a interview with Edward R. Phelps, the "King of the Lobby." Mr. Saxton, as chairman of the committee, handed in the report which was agreed upon at a late hour last might. The members of the committee concur in saying that "in so far as the charges against the members of this House are concerned, the committee do not of this House are concerned, the committee do not ider that there is any truth in them; but for the benefit of the people of the State, there should be a thorough investigation." The committee recommended the appointment by the Speaker of a committee of turing the recess and report at the next session.

Mr. Hamilton moved to add to the resolution, " that the attention of the District-Attorney of Albany County be called to the charges and that he be ordered bring the matter before the grand jury."

Assemblyman Platt opposed an investigation. "In-estigations are always frauds," he said. "There is no use of spending from $20,000 to $30,000 of the State's money just to advertise a New York paper."

General Husted made a long speech in which he

General Husted made a long speech in which he stated that he did not think that there had been any lobbying done during this session. Neither did he think that any one was afraid of a lobbyist. A man need not be corrupted unless he wanted to be. "The members of the Assembly," he said, "understand how false the charges are and I think that it has been made patent to the people of the State. This investigation should be made now. The gentlemen concerned should not remain during the entire summer with this imputation upon them."

General Husted sent to the desk a resolution embodying what he had said, calling for an immediate investigation.

bodying what he had said, calling for an immediate investigation.

Mr. Crosby—It is deemed that the charges made by Phelps are not true; they are false charges. Ye a great many people in this State believe that they are true, and if after what we know an investigation is not ordered, they will say that we do not want one. Mr. Sheehan followed in the line of sentiment expressed by Mr. Crosby. He wanted the senate to appoint a committee to act with the Assembly.

Mr. Crosby—If we can put the lobby away from this House the rest of the session we should be doing a good thing. It is a disgrace to the kepublicans of this House that the leader of the Democratic minority should take the load in this matter. I give him great credit for it. It conforms with his private character and record here. That the leader of the Republican party on this floor should attempt to come out and emasculate this resolution, I leave it to this House to determine whether this is not consistent.

Mr. Husted—I don't propose to accept Mr. Crosby's statement as a personal reflection on myself When Mr. Crosby states that I attempted to esmasculate the resolution or that I attempted to esmasculate the resolution or that I attempted to esmasculate the resolution intend to be held up by Mr. Crosby or any one else.

THE PLEURO-PNEUMONIA ACT.

FIRMLY OPPOSED BY SENATOR HISCOCK. A STRONG ATTACK FROM WHICH THE BILL MAY

NOT RECOVER-POINTS INVOLVED. IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNG.] WASHINGTON, April 6 .- What is known as the Palmer Pieuro-Pueumonia bill came up for general discussion in the Senate to-day. Memorials from granges, county and State agricultural societies of New-York against the passage of this bill have been received in large numbers, covering nearly every section of the State. Senstor Hiscock led off in an able and effective attack upon the bill, showing its absolute unconstitutionality in the right of search which it gave to the agents of the commissioners, without proof that any contagious disease existed: in the power which it conferred to quarantine any farmer's cattle against his protest and advertise the fact in such newspapers as the board chose to select, although the farmer's cattle were only suspected of having been exposed, or because his barns and stables were not in a condition which exactly soits the taste of the agents of the board. He also argued against the power to take cattle not diseased at all and slaughter them, forcing the owners to accept such prices for their property as might be fixed upon by the board, or else have their premises quarantined. All these powers, and more, Senator Hiscock showed, were given to the board, notwithstanding the fact that New-York and other States have now ample laws on the subject, and are giving hearty support to the United States authorities in stamping out pleuro-pneumofia. He also pointed out the danger of the powers with which the agents of the commission were invested, and which they might exercise in connivance with dishonest parties by the purchase and destruction of cattle in the stock yards of Chicago and other cities in the interest of their owners. He also crit cised the bill for conferring upon the commissioners created under its provisions the power to make such regulations as they pleased, which should have a binding force equal to that of statutes eccating criminal offences, and drew attention to the further fact that the preposition involved in the bill was to give to the Board jurisdiction over cattle and swine which were not intended by their owners to be exchanged in interstate commerce. It appeared from Senator Hiscock's argument that the Government, with the aid of the State authorities, has already localized the disease in the States of New-York, Neyl-York, Jersey and Maryland, and is doing all that can be done to report upon the constitutional questions i attack upon the bill, showing its absolute unconstitutionality in the right of search which it gave

SELLING A SEALSKIN DOLMAY FOR NOTHING.

SELLING A SEALSKIN DOLMAN FOR NOTHING. A bold confidence game was carried out at the expense of C. C. Shayne, the dealer in furs at No. 103 Prince-st.

on Thursday. A man who bought a scaladin deliman worth $300 gave his name as Mcl'herson, and ordered it delivered at W. H. Schieffelin's drug store, at William and Beckman sts., where he said he was employed.

The salesman carried the deliman to Schieffelin's himself, and handed it to McPherson, whom he saw as soon as he entered. McPherson went through a side door to get the money or a check. The salesman soon became uneasy, and asked W. S. Mersercau, one of the firm, if McPherson was employed there, and was told that there was no such man in the store. The solesman pointed the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season and has discharged all the crow but the season pointed was no such man in the store. The selesman pointed toward the door by which he thought the sharper had come, but Mr. Mersereau said this was impossible, as the door led to a room from which there was no exit, and the must have gone by a side entrance to the shipping room and to Beckman. St. There were many people about the store at that hour and none of the employes had noticed the man.

resulting in an attack of Billous Colic. At this time I saw Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy advertised and sent for a bottle. I also sent for my physician and teld him that I was going to try the Favorite Remedy. He examined it and feld me to use it three days and let him know the result. In the three days I walked four miles, and have been on my feet ever since. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy saved my life. I have used five bottles and have recommended it to others with good result.

THE COURTS.

COLONEL FELLOWS FAILS TO APPEAR.

District-Attorney Fellows was not in the Supreme Court Chambers yesterday when the case of Gescheidi against Gescheldt and others, in which he is involved Charles A. Geschoidt was read, in which he set forth the nature of the claim against Colonel Fellows, who to charged with failure to account for $7,100 which came into his hands as referee.

Colonel Fellows in an affidavit, acknowledging the receipt of the money, stated that he had paid out to lawyers and as taxes certain sums of money, and he asked for the appointment of a referee. H. M. Gescheidt opposed this. Justice Barrett said that he would grant an order directing Colonel Fellows to pay into court $7.100, but Mr. Hill asked him to reserve his decision until he had examined the papers and he finally consented to do so.

SOMETHING NEW IN FINISHING FURNITURE. A recent invention of considerable merit is attracting the attention of all buyers of furniture. For some time past there has been a movement looking to the exclusion of the ugiy little black-headed tack which is used to fasten the finishing simp on all pieces of upholstered furniture, and to substitute something more suitable. This has been attained by the Adhesive Gimp Company, who have introduced a gimp which by reason of a strong that glue placed on the back enables it to be easily and firmly applied, with no possibility of the sides curling up. as is the case when the tacks are used. By this timely invention uphoistered furniture receives a better finish.
